FRANKLIN MOORE DEAD

WAS IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE
FORTY-TWO YEARS.

The death is announced of a venerable man who, besides giving forty-two years of his life to the service of the government, had previously as pedagogic taught men who afterward became noted in the political and business life of this nation.

Franklin Moore, in his eighty-eight year, died at an early hour this morning at his residence, 1344 Rhode Island avenue. His death may be called sudden, for he passed away after an illness of but one day. It, therefore, came as a shock to his friends in the Department of the Interior.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and will be attended by a delegation of officials and employees of the pension office, where Mr. Moore had been employed.

Mr. Moore was born in Montgomery county, Md., and when very young was brought to Georgetown, where, at the age of twenty-three or twenty-four, he bought his freedom from slavery and that of a sister and brother. By trade he was a tinner and cooper. He was also a musician, and played in and led an orchestra at the Willard Hotel, just after the war. He was many years ago. He worked at his trade on a number of government buildings in the District. In recent years he was too feeble to do any work, but he was able to walk about the house and out of doors, and was fond of relating his experiences and telling stories of the old days in the District.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning from St. Augustine's Catholic Church, and interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

OBJECT TO BAY WINDOW.

Suit to Prevent Construction Adjoining 2009 Wyoming Avenue.

Julia T. Heyl, Edward Randolph Heyl, Helen Heyl, Charles H. Heyl, Jr., and Delphine T. Heyl, children, by their father, Charles H. Heyl, today instituted proceedings in equity in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia against Lewis E. Snoot, asking that the latter be enjoined from proceeding with the erection of a bay window on premises adjoining house 2009 Wyoming avenue, and that he be compelled to remove the portion of the same that has been put up.

The complainants explain that they own premises 2009 Wyoming avenue, valued at $45,000, the house being erected so as to leave an open space on the east side about thirty-two feet wide in order to furnish light and air, as well as to add to the beauty and comfort of the home. Mr. Snoot owns an adjoining house, and is charged, in erecting a bay window about eight feet wide, which is said to project over the division line of the property, on the theory of a party wall.

According to the complainants, the party wall regulation does not apply beyond the limits of the city property, and even if it was intended to so apply, it is unconstitutional and void. Further, it is contended that a bay window wall is not a party wall.

Attorney Samuel Maddox represents the complainants.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION.

Officers Elected and Delegates Admitted Monday Night.

At the last meeting of the Central Labor Union the following officers were elected for the ensuing term of six months: President, E. L. Adams, Columbia Lodge of Machinists; vice president, J. B. Colpoise, Local Union Carpet Mechanics; recording secretary, Charles W. Winslow, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; financial secretary, Clarence McClellan, Printers' Union; treasurer, M. Snelling, Steam Engineers Local No. 99; sergeant-at-arms, Samuel Beckett, Tile Layers' Helpers; auditors, Norman C. Sprague, John Webber and B. V. Walz.

Much interest was manifested in the contest for the presidency, as Mr. J. E. McCarthy, who has been the presiding officer of the body for the last six months, was a candidate for re-election, and Mr. Adams secured the honor by the narrow margin of one vote.

With the exceptions of C. W. Winslow and Samuel Beckett, who were re-elected recording secretary and sergeant-at-arms, respectively, there was an entire change in the official personnel of the body.

Winslow was re-elected for the fifth term by a large majority over R. G. M. Ross of the Amalgamated Street and Motor Workers.

There was no contest for the positions of financial secretary and treasurer, as Mr. J. G. Schmidt, who has been secretary for several terms, declined re-election, as his time is fully engaged in the duties of business agent and secretary of the Bakers' and Confectioners' Union, and J. E. Campbell, who has been treasurer, was not returned as delegate from Columbia Lodge of Machinists.

The following delegates were admitted to the Central Labor Union: Carriage and Wagon Workers' Union, No. 72, Frank Carroll, Charles Muller, Henry C. Stein, Charles Wandel and Frank Willcocks; Steam Engineers' Local Union, No. 77, H. E. Patterson, W. H. Brooks, Jacob Bishop, J. J. McCarthy and W. W.
